Dear visitors,

Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL has established itself as a strategic platform at the heart of the agri-food sector's growth dynamics in South-East Asia.

As part of the SIAL Network, and now brought together within Comexposium's newly created dedicated Food & Beverage Division, the event further strengthens its role in supporting business development, market access and connections between industry players in Asia.

In an international environment characterized by the restructuring of supply chains, changing consumer expectations and the acceleration of trade flows between regions, Malaysia has a unique and pivotal position. As a natural crossroad between ASEAN markets and a gateway to over 600 million consumers, it is establishing itself as an essential regional hub for food exporters.

Its open economy, the gradual structuring of its distribution networks, and its recognized role in the development of the halal market make it a particularly attractive destination for international companies seeking growth and diversification.

In this context, access to the Malaysian market and, more broadly, to the entire ASEAN region, represents a major opportunity for manufacturers, distributors and brands in the food & beverage sector. However, this potential cannot be realized without a detailed understanding of local markets, key players and opportunities for qualified business matchmaking.

It is precisely this need that Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL addresses.

We hope you enjoy your visit and have some fruitful discussions.

RODOLPHE LAMEYSE

CEO Food & Beverage Division – Comexposium

On behalf of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food Security, I am pleased to welcome all exhibitors, buyers, partners, industry leaders and visitors to Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL 2026.

Food security is a national priority that must be strengthened through practical action across the entire food chain. It begins with farmers, fishermen, livestock breeders and producers, and continues through processing, logistics, manufacturing, retail, foodservice and export. Each part of this ecosystem has an important role in ensuring that food remains safe, accessible, affordable and resilient for the people.

In this context, Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL provides a meaningful platform for industry, government, entrepreneurs and international partners to come together. It supports the Ministry's wider objective of building a stronger agro-food ecosystem by encouraging collaboration, market access, innovation, technology adoption and business opportunities for Malaysian and regional food players.

Malaysia is strategically positioned within ASEAN, with strong food manufacturing capabilities, a respected halal ecosystem, diverse agricultural and culinary traditions, and growing opportunities for value-added food products. In line with the spirit of Malaysia MADANI, the continued development of our agro-food sector must also be inclusive, sustainable and beneficial to communities across the value chain. At the same time, Malaysia's rich food heritage and culinary talent continue to support the country's appeal as a destination for business, culture and tourism.

I also welcome our international guests to Malaysia and encourage you to explore the partnerships, products and ideas presented at this exhibition. To our Malaysian companies, entrepreneurs and industry players, I encourage you to make full use of this platform to build new connections, strengthen competitiveness and bring Malaysian products to wider markets.

May Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL 2026 continue to contribute to business growth, stronger industry cooperation and a more resilient food future for Malaysia and the region.

I wish everyone a productive and successful exhibition.

YB DATUK CHAN FOONG HIN

Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Food Security

Dear visitors,

Welcome to the fourth edition of Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL.

Our ambition for FDM is simple: to create a place where a tasting can become an order, a conversation can open a market, and emerging talent can find a bigger stage.

That ambition is reflected in our theme for 2026: Taste. Trade. Talent.

Taste represents the products, cultures, craft and ideas that make this industry worth gathering for. Trade allows those ideas to travel, grow and reach new markets. Talent makes both possible.

Technology continues to change how food is produced, distributed and experienced. Yet food remains, at its heart, a human industry. It begins with the people who grow it, create it, cook it and bring it to the world.

This is why we are placing greater emphasis on the next generation. Through the first preview of SIAL Culinary Masters Asia, presented alongside the Global Culinary Challenge Malaysia, we aim to give young chefs and pastry professionals a platform to be tested, mentored, connected and seen.

This year also marks the return of the Chocolate Show, bringing the worlds of chocolate, cocoa, confectionery, coffee and sweet gastronomy together under the same roof. More than a showcase of indulgence, it highlights the craftsmanship, innovation and business potential behind one of the food industry's most dynamic sectors.

Across the exhibition, you will discover new products, international pavilions, industry discussions, innovation and business opportunities. While these programmes serve different audiences, they share one purpose: to bring the right people together and give them a reason to build something meaningful.

During Visit Malaysia 2026, we also have an opportunity to present Malaysian food not only as something to enjoy, but as an industry, a business opportunity and an expression of our identity.

My sincere thanks go to everyone who has contributed to this edition. Your trust and participation continue to shape FDM.

As you explore the show, meet someone new, taste something unfamiliar and stay open to where one conversation might lead.

Exhibitions do not create progress. People do.

Thank you for joining us. I wish you a productive and memorable Food & Drinks Malaysia by SIAL 2026.
